Reflect

Spend some time in your group carefully reading the passage above. Reflect together:

- What stands out to you in this passage? Is God drawing your attention to a specific part of it?
- What does this passage teach us about God?
- What does this passage teach us about ourselves?
- How is this passage challenging for you?

Christine Caine asked us to consider what we might be holding back from God.

1. Often when God calls us to do something, we respond with a list of “buts.” We have a ready-made list of all the reasons we can’t do what he asks.
  - a. What are some of the “buts” on your list? How do you think God responds to them?
2. Sometimes what holds us back from following God is the fear that we have nothing to offer. We wonder what use we could possibly be, so we do nothing. Instead of doing the one thing God has asked of us, we do nothing because we’re worried we can’t do everything.
  - a. Have you ever found yourself in this situation? We know that God isn’t asking us to do everything, so why is it so hard to give God the one thing he asks?
3. Is God asking you to do anything right now?
  - a. What “buts” are you using as excuses?
  - b. What is the “one thing” God is asking of you?
