Reflect

We are all experiencing limitations right now – whether from being stuck at home, complying with government guidelines, having our plans cancelled, having our work affected, or facing uncertainty about the future.

How Do I Handle My Limitations?

Pastor Josh Walters compares this season of limitations with ups and downs the apostles experienced during their ministry. This analogy teaches three ways to deal with our limitations:

1. I remember that they are allowed by God.
 - a. What limitations have been put on you? How do you feel about them?
 - b. How does knowing God allowed them to change your perspective?
2. Push past the first response to the best response.
 - a. What is your first response to your limitations?
 - b. In what ways is your response all about you?
 - c. What is the best response you can choose to give?
3. Watch God use them.
 - a. How can you accept the reality of your current limitations?
 - b. Are you willing to surrender them to God to see how He might use them?
 - c. How can we pray for you?

Respond: Where is God leading you? How can your small group support you?
