Reflect

The Word of God holds significant value, but oftentimes, we underestimate the benefits that come from creating a habit of reading the Bible. By taking advantage of the access we have to his Word and treasuring scripture in our hearts, we will walk down the path God has set before us and find rest for our souls.

Pastor Josh Surratt highlights three ways we can access the value of the Bible:

1. Don't underestimate the power of the Bible.

- a. Read Hebrews 4:12. How is God's word "alive and active" in your life?
- b. Discuss ways to combat common excuses for not reading the Bible. What new routines can you establish to make the Bible part of your day?
- c. Recall a time where memorized scripture benefited you in a difficult situation. What was the scripture and how did it effect you or others in that moment?

2. Don't underestimate the benefits of the Bible.

- a. What guides your everyday life?
- b. Where do you need direction in your life? How can you gain direction by reading the Bible?
- c. The Bible is described as a double-edged sword. How have you been empowered through scripture to fight your battles?
- d. What does your "spiritual reflection" look like when you look in the mirror?

3. Don't take for granted the access we have to the Bible.

- a. How has having immediate access to the Bible on your phone changed the way you read scripture?
- b. Share your preferred version of the Bible, and the way you access it. Let others know the ease and availability of His Word.

Respond: Where is God leading you? How can your small group support you?
